AMSSM Values Statement

The American Medical Society for Sports Medicine (AMSSM) is committed to the following values:

Service
Develop and maintain strong relationships with our patients and communities through high-quality patient-centered care, and comprehensive sports medicine education, outreach, and advocacy.

Honesty, Integrity, and Respect
Conduct ourselves with honesty, integrity and respect in all professional relationships, including those with colleagues and other organizations. Provide health care for patients, striving to achieve high standards of care and providing our best efforts in diagnosis and treatment.

Quality and Excellence
Strive for the highest quality of work and standards of excellence in all of our professional endeavors, especially patient care, research, education, and advocacy. Embrace continuous learning and quality improvement.

Communication, Collaboration, and Teamwork
Aspire for open and mindful communication and collaboration in all professional relationships. Value the contributions of each member of our community, and support an environment characterized by collegiality and diversity.
